Dedication of the New Congregational Church Takes Place on Sunday

$75,000 House of Worship Is Completed for Varied Uses

Services of Consecration to God and Humanity to Be Impressive

Dedication services for the new Congregational Church will take place next Sunday. Two services will be held. At 11 o'clock the building will be consecrated to the worship of God. At 3 o'clock the building will be dedicated to the service of humanity.

An imposing array of eminent speakers will participate in the services. Special music appropriate to the occasion has also been arranged.

Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard, pastor of the church, will preside at both services, which bring to culmination a long period of arduous work by him in connection with the building enterprise. The speaker at the morning service will be Dr. Henry Kendall Booth of Long Beach, a commanding figure among pulpit orators of the west.

Visiting ministers at the afternoon service will be Dr. Daniel F. Fox of the First Congregational Church of Pasadena, and Dr. Perry F. Schroek of Santa Ana, moderator of the Congregational Conference. At this service Leslie Gaze, well known tenor, will sing a solo.

Another important event of the dedication period will be the community reception to be held next Wednesday evening. At this time the entire building will be thrown open for inspection, and a short program will be given, showing in some degree the possibilities of the new social hall. Mrs. Milton Steinberger is assisting in the preparation of this program.

General plans for the dedication ceremonies and events pertaining thereto have been in charge of a special committee consisting of Mr. Pritchard, Mrs. E. E. Bacon, Mrs. W. S. Hull, F. H. Hartman, N. W. Tarr and R. S. Corlett.

The dedication ceremonies mark the completion of the new church building at a cost, with furnishings now installed, of approximately $75,000. The building enterprise was first started about five years ago when a committee was appointed, tentative plans agreed upon, and some funds pledged. The time seeming inopportune, the enterprise was held in abeyance.

The present enterprise was really put under way in the fall of 1926. At the Thanksgiving services that year a voluntary thank offering was called for, resulting in cash and pledges to the amount of $28,000 being brought forward. This was increased on Easter Sunday, 1927, and at subsequent times. There has never been a campaign of active solicitation (Continued on Page Ten)

Kiwanians to Play Hosts On Monday

Dance and Card Party to Be Held in Woman's Club House

Harold Hart's orchestra will furnish the music for the dance to be given next Monday night in the Woman's Club House under auspices of the Kiwanis Club. This will assure good music for the first big event of the vacation season.

Cards for those who prefer bridge to dancing will assure entertainment for all who attend. Tickets for the event may be obtained from any member of the Kiwanis Club.

Next Monday night marks the opening of the Kiwanis International convention in Seattle. All of the 1700 Kiwanis clubs are holding meetings simultaneously. The local club decided to make a party of it and invite the public. At 8:15 the Kiwanians are expected to gather to hear the reading of the present's convention message, which will take but a few minutes. Then dancing and cards will be in order. President Webster of the Kiwanis Club has designated Frank Spences as chairman of the committee in charge.

CELEBRATION PLANS TO BE TOPIC FOR DISCUSSION HERE TONITE

All persons interested in the proposed 4th of July celebration for Sierra Madre are requested to meet at the chamber of commerce room tonight (Friday) at 7:45. The plans will be discussed and committees appointed to take care of the details of the event and from the encouragement which has been given, the affair gives every promise of being a splendid occasion.

While tonight's meeting is called by the newly organized Goodwillers Club, it is urged that representatives from all organizations be present, for it will take a great deal of activity to stage the affair in the short time remaining.

Remember, all interested persons, ladies and gentlemen, are invited. 7:45, at the chamber of commerce office, Hotel Building.

Ramblers Win First Ball Game

And the Legion Team Mops Up on Chief Richards and Co.

The first ball game of the season on the local grounds was staged Friday afternoon when the Ramblers ramblled away with the heavy end of a 10-to-7 score, the Comrades going down in glorious defeat. Ted Davis did the chucking for the winners and "Tub" Coleman took 'em in, while Howard McBurney twirled for the Comrades, with "Bus" Brain covering the plate. The excitement was so intense that the official score-keeper failed to turn in a coherent report of the game, but the sheet showed that Davis struck out 3 and passed 4; McBurney whiffed 5 and passed 3.

The following composed the line-ups of the teams: Ramblers—Coleman, c; Parker, 1b; Miller 3b; Spears, 2b; Langley, rf; Blanchard, lf; Finn, cf; Davis, p; Elk, 1ss; Emley, 2ss.

Comrades—Brain c; McBurney, p; Young, 1b; Kravatz, 2b; Rapp, 3b; Sanchez, 1ss; Banty, 2ss; Lorenzini, lf; Kelleher, cf; Davis, right field.

The second game of the season was between the Firemen and the Legion. The Legion, fresh from the sprints in Europe, tied the Firemen in so many knots that the score showed 7 to 20 at the finish, with the Firemen taking the water. Dr. Bovard was among the wild-eyed spectators, and was overheard to remark: "Oh, my! '??'! The second inning and not a broken leg yet!"

The Firemen claim they were handicapped by the absence of George Norris and Frank Lovell who professed to have been called away on business—and that may be a god alibi, at that.

The Legion starred Heiney Olsen and Clay Reavis, while the stars for the Hosemen were Vernon Udell, in the garden, and Gordon McMillen on first. Gordon Brooks, the demon insurance man, certainly tried hard but his frenzied efforts resulted mainly in errors (the score book shows a matter of 64 or thereabouts).

Luckey D. Ball, whose business is running a hotel, proved that his art was umpiring. He called 'em as he saw 'em and the absence of complaint testified to a high order of "umpiring". He ought to have a medal for umpiring the game.

C. B. Scott, manager of the local league, is highly elated at the success of the first games of the season and is confident that before the season is over the town will be "wild" about the game.

The game this afternoon should draw a good sized crowd of interested spectators. At the school grounds, 5:30.

J. E. Carpenter, superintendent of the water and street departments is attending the convention of the California Waterworks Association in San Francisco this week.

Fifty-Dollar Fine For Violation of Fire Ordinance

Dr. N. C. Heron of Los Angeles decided to plead guilty to the charge of violating the city ordinance governing open fires and burning off lots. In response to his request for a jury trial his hearing was set for Tuesday. On Monday he appeared before Judge William Carson Shaw of the municipal court, waived jury trial and upon pleading guilty was fined $50.

Mr. and Mrs. Lunny of Sierra Madre Canyon Park were brought before Judge Shaw this week on complaint of J. P. Nash that they kept a dog whose howling at night constituted a public nuisance. The hearing was set for next Tuesday.

Scouts Holding Exhibit Tonight And Sat. Night

Sierra Madre Boy Scouts will hold an exhibition tonight and Saturday night in the social hall of the Congregational Church. The boys will have an interesting showing of their own work in various lines, and also will show many relics and curios of general interest.

No admission charge will be asked for this exhibition. However, the boys are anxious to raise money for their cabin fund and will welcome contributions for the purpose.

Myers to Distribute Kelly-Springfields

Al Myers has taken on Kelly-Springfield tires for local distribution. Still more important, he has made buying arrangements which enable him to meet lowest Los Angeles prices on this famous brand of tires. But this does not mean he is reducing the pace on retreading business. He has so many mileage records on retreads that the figures make one dizzy.

Funds Slow For Kiddies' Health Work

One Hundred Dollars Still Needed for Summer Health School

Donations to the summer health school fund have been notable for their small number so far, according to Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, public school principal. To date the contributions received number four: Sierra Madre School Press, $8; Mrs. Jack Paschall, $5.75; Mrs. May Ballenger, $1; Mrs. R. A. Pratt, $10. These added to the $50 given by the Parent-Teacher Association bring the total to $74.70.

With a total of $175 required for the health school it is said to be highly important to get contributions in early. They may be sent to Miss Steinberger or to Mrs. Ellen C. Barker, municipal nurse. The health school sessions will begin early in July, with Miss Hope Romani in charge.

Past experience has produced highly gratifying results in building up weight and strength in youngsters who are handicapped with ill health or subject to tubercular exposure. Carrying them thus safely through the critical younger years is regarded by health authorities as virtually winning the battle for healthy, useful lives.

Bonds to Be Up for Vote On July 24

Three Issues Are Submitted to Voters at Special Election

Water Department Improvements and Swimming Pools Up

The bond election to pass upon water department and swimming pool bond issues was set for Tuesday, July 24, just before the city council adjourned Tuesday night. All through the session, as the bond proposals came up in the discussions, the assumption was expressed that the ordinance calling the election would be introduced that night and passed at a special meeting to be held next Tuesday night.

Toward adjournment time Mayor W. F. Thayer remarked that he was leaving for the east in a few days, to be absent perhaps a month. That would leave the council with only three members in the city, Councilman Henry Isaacs being also in the east. City Attorney Baker ruled that the bond election ordinance requires the vote of four-fifths of the members of the board. Hence the necessity for immediate passage on first, second and third readings.

Bond issues to be submitted are $130,000 for water department purposes, $30,000 for a swimming pool plant on East Grand View Avenue, and $7,600 for a swimming pool plant in Sierra Madre Canyon. The three will be voted on separately.

Possibility of a low rate of interest on the bonds if authorized was held out alluringly by W. G. Diltz who addressed the council on behalf of the Bieg-Hofine Co., Los Angeles bond house. He submitted a proposition for purchase of the bonds in advance of election, bonds to bear 4 1/2 per cent interest, and the company to pay a cash premium in addition to the expense of printing bonds, publishing proceedings, and securing opinion of competent counsel on validity of bonds. He figured the net interest to the city after allowing for these figures would be about 4 1/2 per cent.

In response to a question as to the legality of contracting for the sale of bonds in advance of election, City Attorney Baker said he would not dare to commit himself. However, after the election ordinance had been finally adopted, the council decided to decline the offer on the ground that sound public policy demanded that the bonds be sold by competitive bidding.

Lyman Raymond Enters Into Rest At Advanced Age

Lyman Raymond, a resident of Sierra Madre for about seven years, passed away last Friday at the home, 251 West Montecito Avenue. He would have been 83 years of age in September. Death was the result of blood poisoning. Mr. Raymond was born in Gardner, Mass. Most of his life had been spent in Fitchburg where he was engaged in market gardening. He was also especially successful in raising fine fruit. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond, who had been married 59 years, had no children. He had a twin brother who passed away two years ago. A sister, Mrs. Reuben F. Stone, still lives in Gardner, Mass. Mr. Raymond was a genial, kindly man who made friends everywhere and felt a warm interest in the welfare of his fellow men.

Funeral prayers were said on Tuesday afternoon at the Ray A. Grant chapel by Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard of the Congregational Church. Mrs. Raymond left on Thursday to take the remains to the old home in Fitchburg for final services and interment.

Davis Poehler Is Graduated From Shattuck

Davis Poehler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Poehler of this city, was graduated from Shattuck Military School of Faribault, Minn., at the annual commencement exercises held there on June 7. Davis has a remarkable record as an athlete, being a member of the football, baseball and hockey teams. He was captain of the Northwestern prep championship hockey team in his senior year.

Poehler's popularity in the student body was evidenced by the fact that he was elected captain of one of the two school athletic clubs. In his junior year he was appointed corporal in the battalion and last fall was promoted to a sergeant. Later in the year he received a lieutenant's commission. He is expected to arrive home within a few days.

Daily Bible School Open Next Monday

Bethany Church Begins 4th Season of Vacation Instruction

Next Monday morning, June 18, is the date set for the opening of the fourth annual daily vacation Bible School conducted by Bethany Church. The school will be held in Bethany Hall from 9 to 11:30 every day except Saturday and Sunday.

There will be three departments of the school into which the children will be put according to age. The daily program will include handwork, Bible study, and memory work.

Every child in Sierra Madre between the ages of four and 13 is urged to attend, especially all former pupils. Parents and friends are cordially invited to visit the school at any time.

Old-Fashioned Fourth of July Celebration Is Plan Of Local Business Men

REGISTRATION FOR COMING ELECTION CAN NOW BE MADE

Registrations can now be made at the City Hall up to and including June 23 for the election that will be held on July 24 for the water and swimming pool bond issues.

Persons who have not registered since January 1 of this year or those who have changed their residence since registering January 1 of this year should register by June 23rd.

Because of the importance of the impending bond issues every citizen eligible to vote at the coming election should be sure that he is legally entitled to cast his ballot. Regardless of his attitude, every voter should vote, and civic leaders are a unit in urging a large vote on the three propositions.

'Dulcy' Said To Be Full Of Laughter

Funny Situations Abound as Plot of Play Is Developed

Did you ever say the wrong thing—"put your foot in it," so to speak? Then you will enjoy and appreciate the difficulties besetting Dulcinea, the leading character in the comedy, "Dulcy," which is to be given Saturday night in the Woman's Club House.

The action of the play centers around the efforts of Dulcinea to play the part of guiding spirit over the destinies of her weekend guests. Having no particular qualifications as a substitute for Providence, she is always facing embarrassing moments. But in spite of the contrary, her good intentions pave the highway to success by reason of a clever trick or two of fate. The delicate satire of the situations is handled with remarkable finesse by the actors.

With only one performance scheduled, the splendid cast should face a packed house. The affair is under auspices of the Woman's Club.

The leading part is taken by Miss Mary Allen. Gordon Smith, her husband, is portrayed by Jack Corlett, while William Parker, her brother, is played by Stafford Sadler. The others in the cast are James N. Hawks, Mrs. Randolph Wood, Miss Cecily Fox, Gustave Riherd, Guy Riherd, R. M. Finlayson, Harry Davis and Lester Bodine.

Rehearsals and general arrangements have been in charge of Mrs. H. E. Allen. Furniture and properties are in charge of Mrs. R. M. Finlayson and Mrs. J. H. Osgood, and electrical equipment of Claude Vedder.

Law With Teeth Now Governs the Cleaning of Lots

Cleaning of weeds, grass and other inflammable material from vacant lots will be effected this year under a new law which has teeth in it. The work will be done by the city of Sierra Madre and the costs will be assessed to the property owners on their tax bills next fall.

Action under the new law was taken at Tuesday night's council meeting. Marshall Keegan, acting as street superintendent, was instructed to make a quick survey of the city and report on every parcel of land which requires cleaning, with description as shown on the assessment roll. This report will be the basis for the proceedings.

The new method relieves the street superintendent of the necessity of hunting up each individual property owner to give notice to clean up his lot. Under the old method, the collection of the costs was largely a matter of bluff. The last legislature made it mandatory on the county tax collector to include these items in the tax statements when properly certified by the city authorities. People who prefer to have the work done under their own supervision should act quickly.

Fine Program of Baseball, Sports, Dinner and Program

New Club Is Organized With Aim to Promote City Park Concerts

If the earnest efforts of a group of local citizens meet with proper support from the various organizations and individuals necessary to insure success, Sierra Madre is going to have a Fourth of July celebration that will be as enjoyable as it will be unique. A baseball game in the afternoon, together with various contests for the boys and girls, with valuable prizes offered by the merchants; a community picnic in the park at dinner time, with free coffee, and an open-air program immediately following the picnic dinner, is the alluring prospect offered residents of this city.

The celebration was the chief topic of discussion at the first meeting of a group which organized under the name of Goodwillers, and having as its chairman W. R. Humphries. Mr. Humphries was president of the chamber of commerce last year and was largely responsible for the success of the open-air entertainment at that year in the city park. Rev. H. B. Moore was selected as secretary. Committee appointments will be made at the meeting tonight.

The newly formed club has as its aim the continuation of the concerts which afforded such fine entertainment to our citizens last summer. The wealth of superior talent in this city should make it comparatively easy to offer concerts and dramatic productions of high merit, and now that the park is to have a new stage and adequate accommodations for large gatherings it seems most desirable that the concerts be continued.

With the glorious Fourth but three weeks away it was thought proper that the series be inaugurated with as comprehensive a celebration as can be provided in the short time remaining.

Every organization in the city will be asked to take part in the day's activities, with the American Legion to have charge of a patriotic service as a prelude to the evening's entertainment.

A dance, open to the public, with fine music and a minimum or no charge at all will close the day if the committee can work the idea out to successful conclusion. Prizes will be offered for the most unique costumes, old-time, character, Spanish, or what have you.

Complete details for the celebration will be discussed tonight at the chamber of commerce room in the hotel building. Organizations are urged to send representatives to the meeting, and every offer of aid will be highly appreciated.

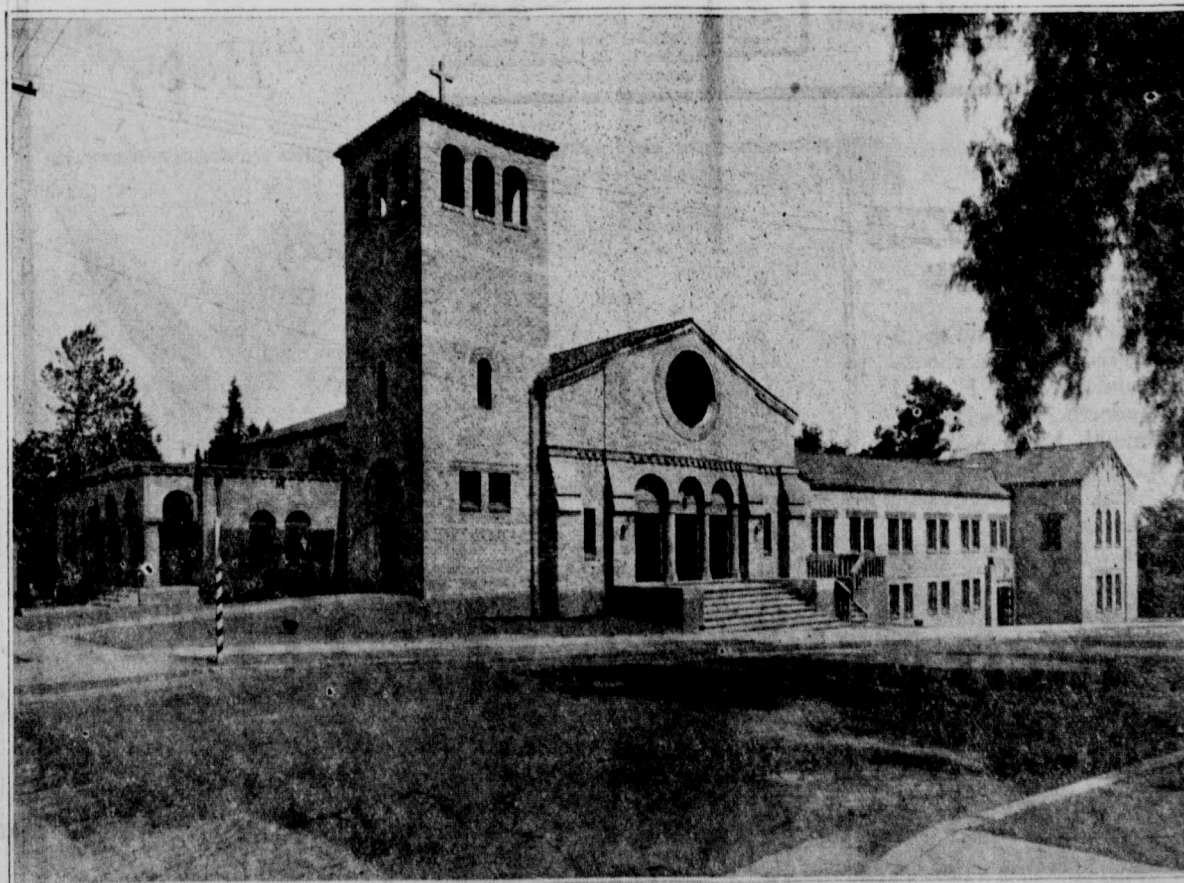

The club has many splendid programs already in sight. An outstanding event will be the appearance here of the Scot band and patrol some time before September. These organizations are considered among the finest of (Continued on Page Ten)

Clagstone to Give Address At Kiwanis

Chamber of Commerce Members Invited to Attend Tuesday Meeting

Paul Clagstone, manager of the western division of the United Chamber of Commerce, will be the speaker at next Tuesday's Kiwanis luncheon. Mr. Clagstone, whose headquarters are in San Francisco, is in intimate touch with business and industrial conditions throughout the country and always has an interesting message.

On account of the interest to members of the Sierra Madre chamber of commerce, members of that body are invited to attend the luncheon on Tuesday. Reservations must be made thru C. B. Klunk at the Sierra Madre Hardware Co., not later than Monday noon. Mr. Clagstone was secured for the address by J. M. Campbell, president of the Sierra Madre chamber of commerce.

Many Beautiful Homes Erected in Sierra Madre During Past Two Years

residence built by Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Humphries and described by them as "a comfortable California home." The house combines the Italian and Spanish types of architecture, with additional phases constructed purely for comfort, into an attractive two-story building, which overlooks the Pacific Ocean on a clear day.

The gorgeous mountains form the view from the front yard, with the Wistaria vine in the foreground, while the house has the entire San Gabriel Valley for a back yard, with a splendid orange grove in the immediate background.

Just a step down from the reception hall is the pleasant living room, backed by a row of windows. To the right is the dining room and the library, opening onto the porch. At the far end of the porch is the bird bath which may be watched by the Humphries and their guests from the breakfast room. The breakfast room is itself similar to an aviary, with its gayly colored paper covering the walls and ceiling from the tiled floor. The kitchen is in the front of the house, and is lighter than any other room.

A large guest room, with tiled bath and enormous closet complete with sleeping porch. A feature of interest in the upstairs apartment, which is occupied by Mrs. Humphries' sister, Mrs. F. K. Miller, is a collection of china cats, some of them many years old.

On the extreme western edge of town, Alegria and Sierra Madre, as the two-story Spanish home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Belohlavek. The home is not yet in its proper setting, as the shrubbery is not yet planted, but the attractiveness of the residence is already apparent.

More attractive than any other feature of this home is the wood finishing. That in the living room is particularly interesting and was done in Long Beach on a sand blasting machine. The design was made by Mrs. Belohlavek, and the wood blasted from the natural grain by the pressure of sand. The beams for the high-ceilinged room are all treated in this manner, as is the mantelpiece. There are windows in three sides of the sunny living room, leading into the main hall, from which the staircase mounts to the bedrooms in the second story.

Here each room has its balcony. The built-in dressing rooms again show the artistry of the cabinet maker and in each of the three bedrooms the dressing rooms are complete with built-in vanities in delicate shades. The long mirrors are on the inside of the dressing rooms, while the outside of the doors, facing the bedrooms are in the colors of the woodwork—apple green, yellow and blue respectively. There are two large tile bathrooms upstairs, and one downstairs, in connection with the servants' quarters.

In the basement is an amusement room, where a piano and a pool table hold sway, while the laundry, garage and furnace rooms are also located here.

At 326 North Adams, in the shadow of Mount Wilson, stands a two-story home erected by Mr. and Mrs. B. Solnit, and its ten rooms have been built to accommodate the family of five to the greatest advantage and comfort. This building is of creamy stucco and red tile, with wrought iron trimmings, but inside it does not closely follow the Spanish type.

The large living room has the popular floor-length window on the west and a fireplace at the north end. The high dome ceiling is a continuation of the smooth cream walls, and light fixtures are of bronzed wrought iron. The dining room, staircase, kitchen, hall and library all open from this central room. The library is unusual in that it is not plastered, but is finished in a silvery grey grooved wood, pieced together in points. The window seats are also of the same wood, with cretonne cushions to match the drapes at the many windows. A cheerful grate fire adds to the charm of this comfortable room.

The breakfast room also has cream ceilings and walls, with stenciled designs on the walls, matching the ivory built-in buffet and serving table. The kitchen is large and light, with plenty of shelves.

Upstairs are four bedrooms and a roof garden, overlooking the mountains.

On the winding driveway of East Alegria, stands another of Sierra Madre's new homes, a two-story green plaster building of the English type, with its rambling wings and its high-jaeked roof of natural shingle.

The charm of this home, planned by the owner, Mrs. A. A. Halsey, lies in its complete reversion to type and its simple dignity.

The setting for the home is perfect, and every window frames a picture surpassing that from the brush of the most famous artist.

The large living room, with its open fireplace, faces the mountains, while the dining room, to the rear of the house, faces the valley and opens onto a summer porch, shaded by gayly striped awnings. The vista from the porch is lovely, and shows in the foreground a tiny lily pond, with an orchard in the rear. To the side is the formal rose garden.

There are five bed rooms, each with its tile bath and dressing room, and two of the sleeping apartments have eideraclosets in connection. Each bath is in a different color, and matches the bedroom with which it connects. The kitchen, in green and yellow tile, has the usual built-in features and system of refrigeration, with additional features planned by Mrs. Halsey.

While not so pretentious as some of the larger homes in the city, the three houses just completed by C. J. Harriman on the corner of Lima and Highland are striking examples of the well-constructed American homes being built in this community.

The three houses stand side by side on Highland, one of white, one of cream and the other of buff stucco. Each has a tile roof, and uses certain phases of the Spanish architecture without losing its own individuality. Two of the houses are already sold, and the third is on the market.

The floor plan of each is similar to the others. Hardwood floors throughout, tile bathrooms, with shower, tile kitchen sinks and drains, numerous closets and cupboards, and many built-in features make the houses convenient.

Each has two bedrooms separated by a hall, a breakfast nook, and a combined living and dining room, as well as kitchen, bath and large back porch.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Paschall have a distinctive home on East Highland, just at the edge of the citrus groves which comprise the eastern outskirts of Sierra Madre. The home takes on the aspect of a southern mansion, setting as it does well back from the road and surrounded by a green lawn.

The driveway winds to the porte cochere, its tall white pillars connecting with the red brick wall of the upper story. A fan-shaped colonial porch forms a pleasing note in the red structure, while the white-shuttered windows overlook the beautiful valley.

The interior of the home carries out the quiet dignity of the exterior. The large drawing room, open to the garden on three sides, has a peculiar charm. The large hall, with its broad white staircase, divides the drawing room from the other half of the house where are located dining room, serving closet, kitchen and cook's apartment, on the main floor, and leads to the second story, where there are seven cosy bedrooms.

In keeping with the architecture of the house the bed rooms, including the nursery, are covered from floor to ceiling with flowered paper, white taffeta flounces, rag rugs and gay cretonne drapes complete the picture of an early American mansion.

To the rear of the house is a fountain, surrounded by a conventional garden, while on the west is a swimming pool for the children.

Society and Personal

Dr. A. D. Stauffer, pastor of the Congregational Church in Claremont, was a visitor at the Kiwanis luncheon on Tuesday, being accompanied by his son Charles. Afterwards he took advantage of the opportunity to inspect the new Congregational Church building. Having just completed a splendid new community house for his own church, he is fully in touch with matters related to church architecture. He was greatly delighted with the Sierra Madre plant by reason of its excellent provision for services of worship and for the manifold activities of parish and community.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman B. Jensen and family who have been residing for some time in Atascadero returned to Sierra Madre last week. Mr. Jensen has taken a position as sales manager for a line of aero engines and supplies.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Campbell had as a week end guest Miss Elinore Catherine Judd, musician on the Pantages theatre circuit. Miss Judd is the daughter of a lifelong friend of Mrs. Campbell and has been blind from birth. The handicap did not prevent her acquiring a splendid education, with collegiate degrees and broad culture. When thrown upon her own resources she turned to music and has achieved marked success. Her performances have attracted the favorable attention of the music critics of all the Pacific Coast cities.

Miss Rosemary Miller, daughter of Mrs. Bertha Miller, 439 Mariposa Avenue, is among the graduates of 1928 at the Alhambra high school, where she was enrolled as a student before coming to Sierra Madre to make her home.

CHURCHES AND CITIES

CHURCHES are a pretty good index to several phases of community life. A town without churches would strike the average visitor as certainly peculiar, and rather under suspicion as to mental caliber and moral conditions. Well planned, well built and well kept churches are prima facie evidence that the people of the community are cultured, prosperous and take their religion seriously.

With the completion of the new Congregational Church every denomination represented in Sierra Madre is well provided with a home for worship and other parish activities. There are plenty of churches in Sierra Madre. Some think there are more than enough, although not so many as in many other places of equal size. At any rate, every reasonable variety of belief should be able to find an appropriate place of worship in the community.

Preaching of unusually high quality, excellent music and a cordial spirit toward visitors is the usual thing in Sierra Madre churches. They do a great amount of good work among the unfortunate, many of whom are denied the privilege of fellowship in the church services. There is every reason why the churches of Sierra Madre should have most liberal support.

THE WINGS HAVE IT

THE whole world breathed a sigh of relief when news came of the safe arrival of those four trans-Pacific fliers. Now it is getting about as easy to lasso a distant island with an air line as for Will Rogers to throw a rope over the head of the orchestra leader. But the more they do it, the more remarkable appears the flight when Lindbergh hopped the Atlantic all by his lonesome.

WHAT PRICE TRADE?

ANOTHER movie star stops scintillating long enough to tell the courts he owes half a million dollars and has resources about sufficient to pay last week's cigaret bill. The question that arises is not, how do they get that way?—the puzzle is, how do the merchants get that way? Little jazz flappers dazzled by a screen celebrity would appear to be keen and level headed in comparison with some of these so-called business men who lose their heads over the high privilege of purveying their wares to movie stars. Serves 'em right.

THE PEDDLER (Puente Journal)

THE summer season, now at hand, brings with it an economic ill that annually takes toll of thousands of ill-gained dollars. It is the itinerant peddler, the house-to-house door-bell ringer and those of his kind who travel from place to place plying their trade and imposing on the credulity of the unthinking.

Inferior articles of many kinds are peddled about hither and yon during the summer months. The automobile has been a great aid to this kind of chicanery, for after he has landed a few gullible prospects a day's journey will take him far away, and beyond the reach of the buyer who discovers that he has been victimized.

What better insurance can there be than buying from the home town merchant? If for any reason the article proves unsatisfactory he is ready and willing to correct the trouble and satisfy his customers.

When folks want support and contributions for this and that, they knew where to find him and he gives willingly and generously. Did anyone ever hear of the itinerant merchant contributing a single cent for the advancement of a local cause? There is one real way of insuring good goods at reasonable prices, one way of getting good value for the dollar expended and that is to buy of the reputable home-town merchant.

Fire Flames

By One of the Boys

As was prophesied a week ago (by the writer of Fire Flames), fire number three has now occurred—we hope they got our names. The next fire will be number one (if we should have more), they must run just three in a row and never number four. The boys all get there much too soon, they deserve a lot of praise, although they only saved the lot—the lot was in a blaze. A pile of brush was blazing high, the buildings were in danger, the Chief and boys were on the job, including our new ranger. Well, that "fire's out," so let's forget, but look forward to another, for summertime is here again, we may have "lots" to smother.

Our meeting and last practice went about the usual way; each member did his little "stuff," each had his little "say." Our jolly member, Gordon Brooks, was due and spread the feed; we had sandwiches and cake galore, we ate jello without heed.

While we were practicing last week, Art Evans and his Scouts came up to watch us do our tricks and hear the talking bouts! The boys all showed an interest and anxious to abide; they showed a disappointment when they were refused a ride. We hope the boys will understand that this cannot be done; the result might be an accident instead of purely fun.

Chief Richards has a little can, this can is made of tin; it all depends on how you speak as to how much you put in. If one should say a word like "h—," well; that just costs you five. I wonder what it cost to say, "For goodness sakes alive?" Some were fined for less than that, and some "put up a holler." You'll wonder what a fellow said when he was fined a dollar.

The Legion and the Firemen played a ball game Tuesday eve. The Legion ran up such a score that the boys could not retrieve. Walt Heber of the Legion, you know is fairly stout, altho the fireboys put out fires, they couldn't put HIM out. He hits the ball by accident, then rolls around the bases; the firemen marvel at his stuff, you could see it in their faces. Old "Happy" Haggood played at third, down where they get 'em hot; when one would be lined down to him, he'd be where it was not. He walked up to the batting plate, his hands crossed on the bat; he tho't he had a paint brush, for he always made a "spat." Emley of the telephones, pulled down a couple of "lines," also a couple of "grounds," by gum, that weren't half bad signs. And old "Doc" Elk played fairly well with due consideration, for he can straighten out a curve with a first examination. Heinie

Olsen of the shoe shop gave a classic demonstration how a ball game could be "sewed up" on the slightest provocation. Next we'll mention "Mud" Clay Reavis, and I forget the rest, but of all the Legion players, he was far from being best. Once or twice the ball stuck in his hands, he could not tell me how, but he "figured" it just stayed there—he may add this all up now.

Oh, the fireboys did some playing that was far from sad disgrace, but they had to hit the ball so far, to beat it to the base. McMillen covered up first base, he seldom cracked a smile; he rarely got one thrown to him that was within a half o' mile. The way he stands up at the plate, he ought to make a "hit," especially with the ladies, for I think our "Mac" has "IT!" Bob Babbitt played at second base, and certainly looked neat, instead of stopping with his hands, he stopped them with his feet. And down at third we had Slim Jim, who made a lot of noise, but never stopped a grounder, which pleased the Legion boys. Our old friend Brooks played down at short, and, just like the rest, he'd let a nice long pop-up fly roll right across his vest. But he was good at running bases, and after that I've said it, although he couldn't stop the ball, he deserves a lot of credit. Joe Swanson was a little short on baseball concentration; he seldom saw the ball at all, until it reached its destination. The Legion boys occasionally would hit one on the nose and Vern Udell and Petzel would leap up on their toes. Regardless of appearances, we expect to beat Kiwanis; we let the Legion win because, they should have just one on us.

Quite a large crowd turned out to the regular council meeting last Tuesday and I thought there might be some fireworks. Up until 10 o'clock there hadn't anything exciting occurred. A rapid-fire bond salesman gave a rapid-fire talk on bonds, but failed to "snarl" our city dads into an immediate "buy." The planning commission had a good representation, urging a stage be built in the city park.

The Canyon Improvement Association had their usual representations present and they received their usual promise of a delay. This time it will only be about two years before any hopes of their road work being commenced. Probably by that time a new objection may be found by the city attorney, to be "carried over until the next meeting of the board."

Oh, well; what business have I or "we" to bother with council meetings, anyway?

If there are any of the Fire Department Boys who think they can play ball, let me tell 'em they need some practice.

IS THIS FAMILY SCENE EVER STAGED IN YOUR HOME?

The moment the cover of that Roasting Pan is removed and the sputtery-steamings and flavory-vapors belch forth from the Roasting Pan's Bounds, stealing from the kitchen on wee-drafts of air to Dad, stretched-out on the Davenport in the Living Room and to Johnny in his room just over the kitchen—the swing-door of the kitchen pushes open and in ambles Dad, saying, "Gee Whittaker, Mom, that's some corking smell—can't we eat soon?"—and they do—just as soon as Mother can scurry things on the table—and what a feast—
—"We've got one good cook, Johnny," says Dad, to which Mother modestly responded, "Thank you, Dear, but that was good meat to start with—that was a 'Chaffee's' Roast!"

With the exception of minor changes which were made in the plans at the final stage, the floor plans shown here are substantially accurate. The curved wall at the front of the south wing was made straight, the locker and choir rooms on the lower floor were reversed in position, and changes were made in some of the small rooms. The general arrangement of church auditorium, social hall, assembly rooms for the various school departments, kitchen and corridors is in accordance with the final plan. Among the excellent features of the building are the splendid circulation failities. Movement of groups from one part of the building to another is accomplished with minimum confusion. The main floor level is slightly above the grade of the sidewalk on the Central Avenue front. A ramp gives access through the tower entrance without the use of steps, a convenience greatly appreciated by many people. Another feature of importance is the absence of the "basement atmosphere." Owing to the southerly slope of the ground, the lower floor is reached from the ground level on the Hermosa Avenue side. All rooms have full height windows, affording abundance of light and air.

Wedding Takes Place in Church Of the Flowers

Miss Leslie Wadsworth of Pasadena became the bride of George Hambaugh of Sierra Madre at a charming ceremony held in the Little Church of the Flowers, Glendale, on June 6. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher, Jr., of Glendale, in the presence of a company which filled the picturesque chapel.

The bride wore bride's satin with lace panel, court train and long veil with cap-shaped head-dress. She was attended by Miss Louella May Wadsworth, her sister, in pink georgette. Bridesmaids were Misses Bertha Allen and Marcela Wiley. Ushers were Messrs LeRoy Carlton and G. I. Harris. Mrs. Raymond H. Baldwin sang two appropriate solos preceding the Lohengrin wedding march which was played by Miss Helen Walker Hamilton.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Dana I. Wadsworth, 1581 East Walnut, Pasadena. She was recently a senior in Pasadena high school. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hambaugh of East Live Oak Avenue with whom he is associated in the Phillips-Hambaugh Realty & Construction Corporation.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held for the bridal party and fifty guests in the Vista del Arroyo Hotel. The young people went to Yosemite Valley for their honeymoon.

"Merry Andrew"

It was first applied to Andrew Borde, physician to Henry VIII. He was very learned and very eccentric, and in order to instruct the people he used to address them at fairs and other crowded places. Those who imitated his wit and droll tricks, though not possessing his genius, were called Merry Andrews.

Contractors Specialize In Churches

Witt & Chute Have Many Public Buildings to Their Credit

Specializing in the building of churches, schools, hospitals and other public buildings, the firm of Witt & Chute brought to the work of erecting the new Congregational Church a fund of valuable experience. They are in every sense general contractors, as very little of the actual construction work covered by the general contract is sublet by them. By maintaining their own organization for all departments of the work they are able to coordinate their program to the best advantage and effect marked economy.

Foremen in charge of the work were Fred Mortenson and George Dever. Charlie Henington was foreman on the masonry work, being rated as especially expert in the stone tile construction.

Among the buildings constructed by this firm are the Compton city hall, Los Nietos grammar school, Van Nuys high school, Watts high school, at least a score of public school buildings in the city of Los Angeles, receiving and treatment building at the Norwalk state hospital, Church of the Holy Spirit at Pico and Arlington, Los Angeles, and St. John's Catholic school and chapel in Inglewood.

R. J. Chute, head of the firm, declares the new church building is one of which Sierra Madre and the church members may well be proud. Without being pretentious, it is unusually complete in its provision for a wide variety of uses.

Judson Studios Provide Windows For New Church

Among the factors making for beauty in church construction, none surpasses the art glass windows if well designed and properly made. In this field of work the Judson Stained Glass Studios stand pre-eminent in the West. In their Highland Park studios, formerly the art building of the University of Southern California, is maintained an art collection which affords a fine background for work of such artistic nature.

The Judson stock rooms hold a great variety of the finest imported and domestic glass. The making of a window is intensely interesting. First the design is the result of special study of each separate problem. Then follows choice of the various colors of glass, cutting to the intricate pattern, coloring and firing to get the right degree of transparency, then the final piecing together of the mosaic in the lead and steel framework.

Ecclesiastical and memorial windows are a specialty of the Judson studios. They also are called upon largely for the leaded glass windows of the old English style so much used in modern residences. Their work is found in many of the most important church buildings of the west, and the beautiful memorials designed for the local church rank with the best.

Comfortable Pews Add to Churchly Air of Auditorium

Comfort for those who attend church services is the prime requisite in the building of pews for church use. Other factors of importance are sound construction and a design which will fit into the picture as appropriate to a house of worship. The product of the California Church Furniture Company meets all these requirements in an admirable way.

The pews are built of Philippine mahogany, stained a dark tone which harmonizes with the interior finish. Those who have sat in them pronounce them unusually comfortable. They are generously spaced so there is ample room for passing seated persons without inconvenience. The communion table and pulpit chairs were built by the same company.

The factory of the California Church Furniture Company is located at Hollywood, between Long Beach and Downey. The furniture is built and finished there, ready for installation.

County Help For Highway Over Divide

Extension of New Road to Buckhorn Flats Is Authorized

Completion of the government fire prevention road thru the San Gabriel mountains from Mt. Wilson as far as Buckhorn Flats is assured by action of the county board of supervisors in appropriating $25,000 as the county's share of the cost of the thirteen-mile stretch from Pine Flats to Buckhorn Flats, it is announced at the office of the Angeles National Forest. The county has already spent $50,000 as its share of the road from Mount Wilson to Pine Flats.

Although the primary purpose of the road is to facilitate the fighting of possible forest fires, it will eventually be widened to permit the public to enter proposed playground areas at Barley Flats and Pine Flats, where public recreation centers will be established.

A survey has already been completed by government engineers to Cedar Springs, which is four miles beyond Buckhorn Flats. It is contemplated that a road will be built around Mount Williamson and Mount Islip to Crystal Lake, where the county plans to establish another recreation park. A spur road may be built from Buckhorn Flats to connect with the desert, forestry officials state.

Recently a party of Pasadena city officials, county supervisors and forestry men visited Pine Flats and found this area would lend itself admirably to recreation park uses, when it is connected by a wide road.

PROPOSED HIGHWAY ALONG THE FOOTHILLS FROM ALTADENA TO UPLAND

Title Co. In Unique New Sky Scraper

Sierra Madre Man Prominent In Affairs of Huge Organization

Officers and employees of Title Insurance and Trust Co. of Los Angeles celebrated its 35th year of business in the field of title insurance, escrows and trusts with the formal opening June 14 of the company's new limit-height home office building at 433 South Spring street, Los Angeles.

W. C. Davis of Sierra Madre has been prominently identified with the Title Insurance and Trust Company for more than 20 years. Soon after his arrival from Chicago he organized the escrow department which has grown enormously in keeping with the other branches of the business. As auditor he was in close relations with the heads of the company, and after a number of years of capable service was made a vice president, a position which he now holds.

According to Stuart O'Melveny, first vice president, the new edifice fronting 242 feet on Spring Street, is valued at $4,000,000 and is one of the finest institutional buildings in the country. Faced with terra cotta of a warm and rich texture and employing the new set-back style of architecture in its design, the structure is the embodiment of grace, beauty and strength. In 1897 the company opened the first trust department in the southwest. The company was the originator of the present escrow system and is the largest of its kind in the west.

The company occupies four floors of the new building, the tenth floor being given over to the executive offices, a cafeteria, officers' dining room and recreation rooms for men and women.

The Title Insurance and Trust Company was incorporated in 1893 and today has a capital and surplus of $10,000,000.00.

Miss Marjorie Thomas of Los Angeles visited this week at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Hortense Hill.

Mrs. Hanan Preslar of North Carolina is visiting at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ben M. Lyon of Auburn Avenue.

City Clerk Louis Dietz is still confined to his home on South Baldwin Avenue. In spite of several severe attacks during the past week he is reported to be resting somewhat easier. Yesterday he was able to move out to the front porch.

Stone Tile Walls Of Church Attract Favorable Notice

Stone tile as a building material is rapidly coming to the front. The cement block used in the walls of the Congregational Church are a patented product of the Pacific Stone Tile Company. They were adopted by the building committee after lengthy investigation of many school and church structures in which they had been used and found satisfactory. Stability and economy are factors on which they were especially recommended.

In the construction of the church building the corners are re-enforced with steel rods running through the open spaces into which cement is then poured, making a solid column. Solid concrete lintels and sills, with concrete bonding courses make the walls exceptionally strong.

The church is the largest building in this neighborhood built of stone tile. However, it is understood this material has been specified for another large building to be erected here soon. In the original specifications, the church exterior was to be covered with a stucco or other coat which would have disguised the character of the walls. The texture of the stone tile walls has attracted such favorable attention that this item was omitted in the construction of the building.

Cabinet Work in Kitchen to Play Important Part

Kitchen facilities in the Congregational Church building are a source of particular pride. In the important activities of this department, the cabinet work is vital. This contract was entrusted to the Matteson Mfg. Co., of Monrovia, of which C. C. Matteson is proprietor.

The various cabinets were planned both for convenient storage and for efficient use in actual service. The quality of the mill work and installation will be a great aid to the workers. In addition to the installation in the main kitchen, the Matteson company also provided the cabinet work in the kitchenette on the upper floor where smaller groups can be conveniently served.

Plumbing Item is Large Factor in Church Building

One of the most vital factors in the worth of any public building is the plumbing system. In placing the contract for this with the Sierra Madre Hardware Company the building committee had complete confidence that the plumbing would be well done without any delays involved. And one of the things which Messrs. Griebenow, Hull and Klunk are particularly proud is the fact that Percy Kortkamp, who was in charge of the job, had the plumbing ready on time at every stage of the construction.

Lavatory and toilet facilities are provided on both floors and for all departments. Drinking fountains in the corridors, sinks in the janitors' closets, the shower room, fire hose outlets and equipment at strategic points, and the elaborate kitchen made the plumbing installation a large item in the building. Likewise it will be an important factor in the satisfactory use of the plant.

I wish to congratulate the people of Sierra Madre upon the completion of such a splendid community asset as the new Congregational Church building. Having built many churches within the past few years I can truthfully commend it as an unusually complete plant, and a fine example of church architecture.

THE NEGLECTED TEENS

The popular fashion among girls of weight reducing before maturity is reached is, no doubt, one contributing cause of the present high tuberculosis mortality. Statistics show that the mortality rate from tuberculosis between the ages of 15 and 25 years has decreased only about one-half as much during the last ten years as among all other ages combined, and is 75 per cent higher among girls than boys.

The pre-school child death rate from tuberculosis during the same period has shown the greatest decrease, due largely to the nationwide interest centered on this particular age period. The 'teen age' is now taking the place of the pre-school age as the "neglected" age.

As the body grows it fills the health reservoirs of good tissues and blood from only one source—good, wholesome food and enough of it. The 'teen age' boy usually is not worried over his food except to get enough of it; consequently he builds up greater resistance. However, over-devotion to athletics may drain a youth's vitality at this great growth age.

A vicious circle is often formed before parents become aware of what has taken place. Under-feeding, under-sleeping, over-activity, undue mental and physical strain all tap the health reservoir of youth.

Girls and boys need to enroll in a sane and vitally important health course along with their other school activities; and furthermore, need to apply intelligently the lessons learned.

Parents, teachers and employers must learn just how heavy a load of study, work and recreational activities youth can safely carry. A yearly check-up should be made through means of thorough physical examinations. Through intelligent co-operation and the stressing of the importance of health at the 'teen age', the high mortality from tuberculosis at this dangerous and neglected age can be cut down.

The first carload lot of dates ever to be shipped from any point in this country left India last Thursday for New York markets. The initial carload comprised 26,000 pounds and were of the Deglet Noor variety.

NOTICE THAT SERVICE MAY BE DISCONTINUED

Some time ago the Street Department announced that the first part of every month the truck would remove free all front yard cuttings and light debris if put in piles at curb. The schedule was the first three days of each month to pick up on West side between Baldwin and Sierra Madre Avenues. The second three days of each month to pick up on East side from Baldwin to the East City limits.

We are only too glad to continue this service if the people will co-operate, but we find some are taking advantage and are really regarding and conditioning entire lots as we sometimes find three truck loads of debris at one location.

We hope for co-operation in this matter and to have everyone adhere to the above schedule. If we do not get this co-operation THIS SERVICE WILL BE DISCONTINUED.

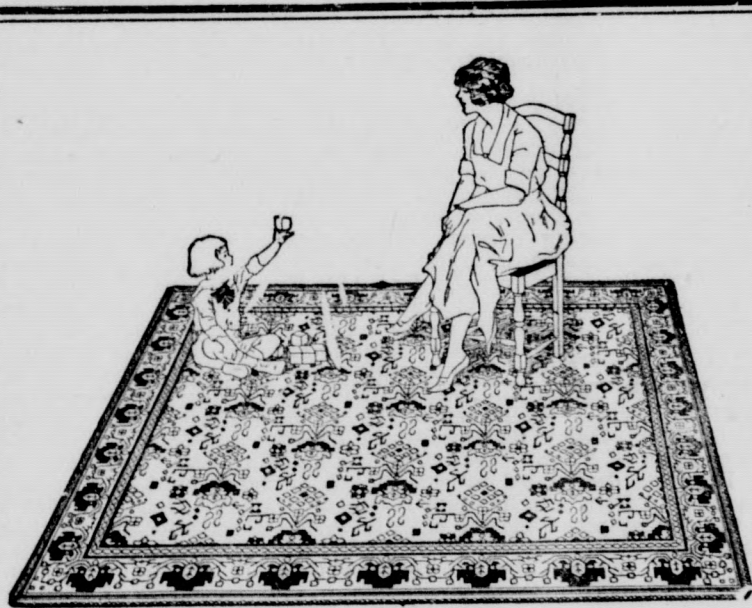

Yours truly,
J. E. Carpenter,
Supt. of Streets.

Why one cooperative sales agency can best serve the Citrus Industry

INEXPERIENCED orange and lemon growers are sometimes told that 2 selling organizations competing with each other in the markets of the world could do a better job than if the entire crop were handled through the California Fruit Growers Exchange.

Let us assume that a second association has been organized and that it has signed up the remaining one-quarter of the crop which the Exchange does not now handle.

Then imagine that you yourself have been sent East to sell fruit for this smaller cooperative. A carload of oranges is scheduled to arrive in your territory within a day or two.

What will be your story when you approach a prospective buyer?

Would it be "BETTER FRUIT"?

No. Buyers well know that Exchange fruit is uniformly dependable. Years of experience have made them skeptical of unknown brands.

Would it be that you have "A BRAND OF FRUIT THAT WOMEN RECOGNIZE"?

No. Buyers will tell you that "Sunkist" is on every housewife's lips. That Sunkist is a byword of the nation.

Would you offer "SERVICE THAT THE EXCHANGE DOES NOT OFFER"?

No. Buyers know that the Exchange, by handling a larger volume of the total crop is better able to supply them fruit throughout the year.

They know that Exchange dealer service men make 75,000 calls on retailers each year, many in their territory.

They know that the Exchange is better able to supply them with reliable market data because it has first hand information on the bulk of the crop covering all districts where the fruit is raised.

WOULD YOU OFFER TO SELL FOR LESS?

No. Because to prove that two cooperatives are necessary you must get more money than the Exchange. Financial return is the only gauge by which your theory can be proved.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

You might blame your California office. Perhaps they should have shipped the car to another point. You might wire suggesting the car be diverted to a big population center... an auction market. But your California office would say, "No, our brand has no standing in the large consuming centers." You would be asked to "submit best offer." This you would do and the answer would probably come back, "SELL."

JOIN THE EXCHANGE

Competition in production, in improving the quality of fruit, packing and handling is an excellent practice. The Exchange employs it constantly.

But competition in selling means less profit for all.

Cooperation in selling, on the other hand, means an evenly distributed crop. It means the securing of the highest prevailing prices in the different markets of America, and abroad. It means a decreased cost of production through cooperative buying in larger quantities. It means a greater advertising campaign to further increase the average per capita consumption of citrus fruits. It means lower selling cost through larger volume. It means more profit to every grower.

More growers in the Exchange means more money for California citrus fruits.

Talk to the manager of the nearest Exchange Association or District Exchange. Or write for further information to California Fruit Growers Exchange, Box 530, Station "C", Los Angeles, California.

And still no high school!

However, it took the A.E.F. more than six weeks to win the war and while there's life there's a silver lining.

A little boy in junior high had been kept out of school for some time because of a light case of mumps. He finally got a "clearance" from his local doctor, and the next morning he went with his school-mates back to junior high. Upon arrival there he was told that he could not attend classes. "Where can I go?" he inquired; "the bus has gone and I don't want to walk home." "I don't know where you can go," said one high in authority, "but you can't stay here!" And the boy, who had been so recently ill, was forced to walk home, a distance of several miles. He was in a pitiable state upon arrival, and if he had been YOUR boy you would have felt just as his mother felt after such an experience.

Cheer up! It may be your turn next!

If this writer were a statistics sharp he'd write something that would frizzle the fuzz on a tadpole's tail. But, like Mark Antony (so to speak) he admits his inability to cause the very stones in the main thoroughfare to rise and mutiny.

Nevertheless here's something to think about. Sierra Madre spends approximately $125,000 a year on schools—$50,000 for the grammar school up to the seventh grade, and $75,000 for junior and senior high. Fifty thousand dollars is kept in Sierra Madre, paying salaries and upkeep. The seventy-five thousand is sent over to Pasadena, and not a dime of it ever again circulates in Sierra Madre. The teacher salaries it helps to pay are spent in Pasadena, paying house rent, grocery bills, miscellaneous merchandise and what-not. It is lost to this community, just as is the $100 per month we pay for a city attorney, and the money we pay to non-resident city engineers. If Sierra Madre continues this short-sighted policy the few of us left will have to do as it is alleged the Chinese do—"take in" each others washings in order to make a living.

And don't forget the money that is spent for bus fares and incidentals—conservatively, another $25,000 that goes "where the woodbine twineth," so far as we can ever know.

And just pause a moment and figure out the cost per pupil—say, 200 pupils, at $75,000 per year. You figure it; we haven't the heart.

It has been pointed out to this writer that Sierra Madre can have a high school system only by withdrawing entirely from the Pasadena system. Well, that would not be such a hardship. Grant that Pasadena has a wonderful plant—a lot of boys and girls have carved out splendid careers after graduating from very ordinary school houses, and most of them will point back to some individual teacher who has had a major part in the forming of his or her career. Nickle-plated turning bars and hot and cold running window shades never turned out an A student.

Sierra Madre can bond itself right now, for school purposes in the sum of $180,000. That amount would put up a structure adequate for present purposes for both grammar and high schools, at the present building prices, which are much below normal.

It is pointed out that if the present site is to be used, several homes near the present school would have to be purchased, at a suggested cost of $40,000. It is also asserted that the grading of the present site will cost about $25,000. Sixty-five thousand taken from the highest possible bond issue would not leave enough for a building program, that must be granted. But, would it not be possible to find a tract suitable for such a plant, which could be secured at a cost far below $65,000 and, in turn, sell the present sight for residence properties at a price that would leave the bond issue practically clear for the building program.

A committee of men and women interested in keeping Sierra Madre pupils in Sierra Madre could easily make a survey of the situation, if they were given the proper authority. It seems that the crying need just now is more light, both pro and con.

Many towns, much smaller than Sierra Madre, are now graduating large classes from the senior high school. Puente, Claremont, Upland—practically all the towns in the valley are far ahead, figuring on a per capita population basis. Each group has its leaders—the students are being taught the fundamentals of leadership that will shape their future business lives. The smaller school, while perhaps lacking in some of the furbeles, offers that prime essential of closer contact and infinitely greater opportunity to DO things. Its the training of the mind that counts, not the number of times a boy can chin himself on a horizontal bar.

It is admitted that the present school building is inadequate in every respect—unsanitary, a fire-trap, wretched lighting—in fact a plant that was obsolete many years ago. The authorities agree that we must have a new building at once. Why not a complete plant?

Sierra Madre, in the estimation of this scribe, needs but one thing to make it the finest city in Southern California. God gave us a marvelous climate and a setting approximating perfection. Sierra Madre can blossom out as a growing community, or emulate the little boy who wanted to be turned into a rock upon the hill-side, so he "could just sit still." Write your own ticket!

Incidents of Early Years in Woman's Club Are Exchanged

Wednesday's luncheon session of the Woman's Club was a delightful sort of family affair. Special luncheon guests were artist residents of Sierra Madre, together with past presidents and charter members. Mrs. Fletcher H. White, president of the club, presented the following: Oscar Rasbach, composer-pianist; Donald Thayer, baritone; and Mrs. Thayer; Mrs. Robert E. Cowan, better known as B. M. Bower, the novelist; A. J. Dewey, artist, and Mrs. Dewey; A. R. Gerlach, artist photographer; Miss Ella Shepard Bush, miniature painter, and Col. and Mrs. H. B. Hersey, the former being in charge of the federal weather bureau in Los Angeles.

Past presidents and charter members who were introduced included Mrs. Harriet Wright, president emerita who paid a beautiful tribute to Mrs. Caroline Osgood and Mrs. C. E. Bentham, the first club presidents, Mrs. W. S. Andrews, Mrs. L. E. Steinberger, Mrs. W. H. Ingraham, Mrs. W. J. Lawless, Mrs. H. I. Hawthurst and Mrs. Milton Steinberger. This afforded opportunity for many amusing reminiscences concerning club history from the early days in the old town hall over Welsher's store. Some of the stories were very illuminating to the newer members of the club.

At the afternoon club session the speaker was J. D. Tilton, who is engaged in Santa Barbara county planning commission work. He spoke on the advantages of zoning and regional planning work. Mr. Tilton has spent the past six or eight months making surveys of parks for the citizen's committee. He spoke of the need of a city planning commission in the planning of development where growth is taking place. He stated that industries have a tendency to destroy the things which make living enjoyable, and therefore only the amount of commercial and industrial property should be zoned for that purpose as will permit proper growth.

Mr. Tilton stated 100 people were required to make fifty feet of business frontage. This average will vary slightly in some sections. In Sacramento the average would run about 100 people for every 67 feet; in Pasadena, about 66 to 64 feet; Los Angeles about 44 feet. He stated that in Los Angeles the population of people of the age of 60 and over runs about 10 per cent, while in most of the large cities it rarely runs around six.

Mr. Tilton spoke of the value of beautiful drives so that people driving thru in autos can see something of the character of the city.

The last meeting of the club year will take place on Wednesday, June 27, when installation of officers will take place.

their mind on the coast and will offer a splendid evening's entertainment. Chief E. H. Keegan, a member of the order, has been negotiating with E. H. Horner, of Pasadena, and has secured assurance that the band and patrol will come to Sierra Madre.

A speaker of prominence has tentatively promised to come to Sierra Madre some evening during the summer and it is believed that Nick Harris and Sergeant Johnson of the safety department Los Angeles police, can again be secured.

Local musicians and dramatists have expressed a willingness to cooperate and the outlook is certainly very bright for a summer of unusual enjoyment.

Organization of a band for Sierra Madre was one of the matters brought up for discussion. There are many young people in the city who have had much experience in high school and church orchestras, who would form the nucleus of such an organization. There are enough "old timers" to fill in with necessary instruments and it was the consensus of opinion that a band could be organized and brought to a point where it could make a presentable appearance in six or eight weeks. The matter of securing a leader competent to take charge of such an organization and providing a small salary for such service is to be an order of business at an early meeting of the new club.

Past Officers to Be Honor Guests

Past matrons and past patrons of the Eastern Star will be guests of honor at the chapter meeting next Monday night. The festivities will begin with a southern baked ham dinner at 6:30 o'clock. Dinner reservations should be made with Mrs. Agnes Tyree, associate matron, not later than this (Friday) evening.

Officer McMullen Enjoys Vacation

Officer Gordon McMullen was given two weeks leave by absence by the city council, his annual vacation. His place will be taken by George Cox.

bidding. Oscar Seiling, chairman of the planning commission, presented a tentative sketch of a stage to be built in the city park, with a request that the board authorize the building quickly so it can be used this summer. The general plan of a stage for outdoor musical and dramatic events was approved by Mrs. Milton Steinberger, Mrs. John H. Osgood, W. R. Humphries, J. R. Thompson and Dr. C. N. Barker. The latter requested careful thought for the appearance of the rear view of the stage which will be presented to Mariposa Avenue residents.

Mr. Seiling called attention to the fact that there is abundant money in the park fund to pay for the improvement. Mayor Thayer asked Mr. Seiling, Mrs. Steinberger and Mr. Humphries to consult with the organization clearing house committee and submit another sketch of a type upon which all could agree at the next meeting of the council.

Mrs. Ellen C. Barker was given leave of absence from July 1 to August 31, of which period two weeks will be her annual vacation with pay. During that time her duties as municipal nurse will be performed by Miss Casanjan.

A letter from Mrs. J. P. Nash, secretary of the Canyon Improvement Association, brought up the perennial problem of the canyon street improvement program. Jas. Heasley begged the council to hurry the work for humanity's sake. He prophesied that certain disaster would result from continuation of present conditions, with probable loss of life. Attorney Baker warned the council that the members would be personally liable for damages if the menace continued after due warning.

Then followed an interchange over the question of who was responsible for delay in getting easements on the parcels of land needed for rights of way. Attorney Baker finally urged the board to give up trying to get voluntary easements so the work could be done under the 1911 improvement act. He advised strongly that proceedings be started under the acquisition and improvement act of 1903. On motion of Councilman Myers, the city engineer was instructed to prepare descriptions of each needed parcel and furnish them to Mr. Baker, after which the latter promised there would be no unnecessary delay. This motion was carried.

J. W. Strickland who has been ill at the Sierra Madre hospital for some time, underwent a serious intestinal operation on Saturday. Severity of the hiccoughs which have distressed him continually has lessened somewhat, but he is reported to be still very weak and in an extremely critical condition.

Miss Kate Patton has moved to Sierra Madre from Los Angeles to occupy her new home at 196 San Gabriel Court.

Dedication of New Church to Take Place on Sunday and never a public drive for funds. However, cash and pledges to the amount of $45,000 have been given voluntarily. To this amount will be added a donation of $3,000 from the Congregational Building Society and a loan of $7,000 at a low rate of interest. The church also has clear title to the old church property on the north side of Central Avenue with a frontage of 100 feet. This will be sold when conditions warrant, to apply on the new structure.

No drive for funds will be made in connection with any of the dedication services, it is announced. However, the building committee is asking for $7,000 in cash, either new gifts or payment of pledges, at this time. This will be needed to meet payments on contracts when due without resort to further borrowing.

The building committee which has been in charge of the present project consists of E. E. Bacon, chairman, N. W. Tarr, Mrs. Fred Staff, Mrs. R. S. Corlett, George B. Morridge and the pastor, Mr. Pritchard. Many divisions of the work have enlisted the earnest cooperation of a large number of members in special committee work. The architect on both the present and the old projects was Mott M. Marston.

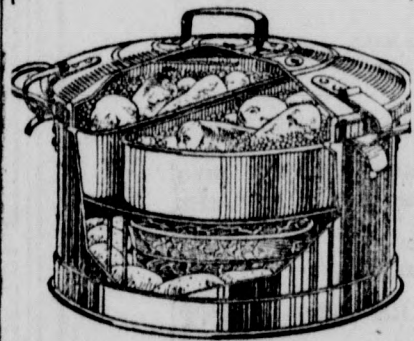

From the beginning it has been the aim of the church members to provide a building churchly in appearance, with an auditorium conducive to a spirit of worship, an educational plant calculated for successful development of a program of religious education, and facilities for social and community service. How well these ideals have been realized can be judged to some extent by study of the pictures and building plans presented in this issue of the News. The exterior of the building is Romanesque in treatment. The soft grey of the stone tile walls is set off effectively by the red tile roof. In the tower, which is surmounted by a cross, hangs the bell which for 35 years pealed forth from the tower of the old church.

Two rooms of the building have been designated as memorials to former pastors of the church who were widely known and greatly loved. The small chapel was named for Dr. James Mann Campbell, famous for his books on spiritual topics. It will be used for prayer meetings and small devotional services. The room shown in the plans as the men's parlor will be finished and furnished as a memorial to Dr. Fred Staff, friend of everyone but esteemed by men to a degree which was unusual.

Present officers of the Congregational Church are: Deacons—F. H. Hartman, chairman; J. C. Dickson, Daniel Shaffer, George B. Morridge, S. R. G. Twycross and Arthur T. Evans; directors—Edward E. Bacon, chairman; R. J. Lord, Albert Wheeling, Rudolph Hartman, N. W. Tarr; clerk, Lester Bodine; treasurer, W. S. Hull; financial secretary, Charles W. Forman; auditor, Convers Twycross.

The pageant will be on the huge scale for which Pasadena high school is noted, the title being "America, Leader Toward Peace." Color and gaiety will characterize the development of the theme. Solo and chorus numbers will add to the impressiveness of the occasion. The diplomas will be presented by Judge Raymond G. Thompson, president of the board of education.

The bowl pageant is scheduled to start promptly at five o'clock. Ticket holders must be in the places early to make their reservations good. There is no admission charge, each member of the graduating class being furnished a number of reserved seat tickets. a man came in and listed his lot the other day for $1850.00. Six months ago I sold him the lot in question for $1250. I was surprised and asked him why the lot had advanced $600. His reply was this: "I guess I can get it." I asked him: "What have you done to make the lot worth this advance?"

Further, I asked him if he had done anything during the ownership of the lot to warrant this raise. "Have you helped your church?" "No." "Do you take the local paper?" "No." "Do you attend the council meetings, and are you trying in some way to help your town and your lot?" "No."

After a few more questions I found that all the owner had done was pay his taxes, file his deed with the County Recorder, hold the good thought and figure with a lead pencil the profit he hoped to get if he sold his lot. I forgot to mention to him the fact that the weeds are still on the lot and that values are not made with lead pencils.

Business is better, values are being created daily by effort, all of us must do something besides using lead pencils.
